LIDDELL AND SCOTT'S GREEK LEXICON.

A GREEK-ENGLISH LEXICON. Compiled by HENRY GEORGE LIDDELL, D.D., Dean of Christ Church; and ROBERT SCOTT, D.D., Dean of Rochester, late Master of Balliol College. Seventh Edition, Revised and Augmented throughout. 4to, cloth, 36s.

In this, the definitive edition, which has been for several years in preparation, every article has been subjected to a thorough and minute revision. Although very considerable additions have been made, it has been found possible, by means of compression, and an enlargement of the size of the page, to reduce by ninety pages the bulk of the present edition of the work. The additions consist mainly of fuller references to the classical authors, and a free use of the Indices to the Berlin Aristotele and to the "Corpus Inscriptionum Græcarum." The Editors have been favoured with the co-operation of many scholars, more particularly of Professor DRISLER, of New York; Professor GOODWIN, of Cambridge; Messrs. GILBERT and GILBERT, of Baltimore; Professor GOODWIN and GILBERT, of New York; and Professor GILBERT, of Baltimore. "This Dictionary is unquestionably one of great value and importance. . . . It exhibits the results of much patient and honest work, and is, especially for English readers, a very great advance upon all previous works of the same character."—Professor KEAT, in the Academy.

AN ETYMOLOGICAL DICTIONARY OF THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE, Arranged on an Historical Basis. By W. W. SKEAT, M.A. 4to, cloth, £2 4s.

ASPECTS OF POETRY: being Lectures delivered at Oxford by JOHN CAMPBELL SHAIRP, LL.D., Professor of Poetry, Oxford. Crown 8vo, cloth, 10s. 6d.

A CONSTITUTIONAL HISTORY of ENG- LAND. By W. STUBBS, D.D., Regius Professor of Modern History, Oxford. New Library Edition in 3 vols., demy 8vo, cloth, £2 6s.

Also in 3 vols., crown 8vo, cloth, 12s. each.
"One of the most considerable works of modern literature. . . . Professor Stubbs has produced a classic without a knowledge of which no Englishman's political education will be henceforth complete. . . . In his pages the master idea of the English Constitution is for the first time shown to inspire the whole course of the national history."—Edinburgh Review.

SELECT CHARTERS and other HISTORI- CAL DOCUMENTS, illustrative of the Constitutional History of the English Nation from the Earliest Times to the Reign of Edward I. By W. STUBBS, D.D., Regius Professor of Modern History, Oxford. Fourth Edition. Crown 8vo, cloth, 8s. 6d.

"A sketch of the early constitutional history of England such as has never been written before. . . . The introduction of that one of the most accomplished and thorough students of French literature to be found in England. Indeed, it may be doubted if he has any equal for all-round grasp and knowledge of his subject, at once extensive and minute. . . . And of this the present work offers abundant proof. . . . It would not be easy to give too much praise to the whole of the first book on the literature of the Middle Ages. To say that it is by far the best account of French medieval literature in English would be a very dubious and inadequate compliment. Unless we are much mistaken, it is the best account extant."—Full Mail Gazette.

A SELECTION from the DESPATCHES, TREATIES, and other Papers of the MARQUESS WELLESLEY, K.G., during his GOVERNMENT of INDIA. Edited by E. J. OWEN, M.A., Reader in Indian History in the University of Oxford, formerly Professor of History in the Elphinstone College, Bombay. 8vo, cloth, £1 4s.

A SHORT HISTORY of FRENCH LIT- ERATURE. By GEORGE SAINTSBURY. Crown 8vo, cloth, 10s. 6d.

"Mr. Saintsbury's proper character is well known; that of one of the most accomplished and thorough students of French literature to be found in England. Indeed, it may be doubted if he has any equal for all-round grasp and knowledge of his subject, at once extensive and minute. . . . And of this the present work offers abundant proof. . . . It would not be easy to give too much praise to the whole of the first book on the literature of the Middle Ages. To say that it is by far the best account of French medieval literature in English would be a very dubious and inadequate compliment. Unless we are much mistaken, it is the best account extant."—Full Mail Gazette.

A PRIMER of FRENCH LITERATURE. By GEORGE SAINTSBURY. Second Edition, with Index. Extra fcap. 8vo, cloth, 2s.

"An extraordinary achievement in scholarship."—Athenæum.
"Notwithstanding the limited space Mr. Saintsbury allows himself, he has managed to characterise each writer according to his merit, and to the literature of the past has added a short sketch of that of the present day. In this, as throughout the volume, Mr. Saintsbury may be said, like Joubert, to have put a book into a page, a page into a phrase, and a phrase into a word."—St. James's Gazette.

SPECTACLES v. BLINDNESS.

"Spectacles can only be perfectly adjusted by those having a thorough knowledge of the anatomy of the eye combined with optical experience."

WE have the highest medical authorities, confirmed by daily experience, that imperfect glasses, together with the haphazard plan of selection, generally employed by the mere vendor, is the cause of most cases of blindness and defective vision.

Sir Julius Benedict writes: "I have tried the principal opticians in London without success; but the spectacles you have adapted suit admirably. The clearness of your glasses, as compared with others, is really surprising."

The Rev. Professor W. A. Hales, M.A. Canab., 2, Murford-gardens, West Kensington-park, writes: "The spectacles are perfect, and a most decided boon. I had occasion on Monday to write to L., and took the opportunity to mention your name and the wonderful power of your spectacles."

Mr. HENRY LAURANCE, F.R.S., Oculist Optician, 38, OLD BOND STREET, W. (late 3, Endsleigh-gardens, Euston-square), personally adapts his IMPROVED SPECTACLES daily (Saturdays excepted) from 10 to 5. Special arrangements are made for Invalids and others unable to wait on Mr. Laurance.

Pamphlet—"Spectacles: their Use and Abuse," post-free.
City Branch—8, POULTRY, CHEAPSIDE.

Dr. Bird, Chelmsford, writes: "I could not have believed it possible that my sight could have been so much improved and relieved at my age, 62, I can now read the smallest type, although suffering from cataract on the right eye."

Testimonials from Earl and Countess Lindsay, F. D. Dixon Hartland, Esq., M.P., the Ven. Archdeacon Palmer, Clifton; Rev. Mother Abbess, St. Mary's Abbey, Mill Hill, Hendon; C. J. Alford, Esq., Gas Light and Coke Company, Horseferry-road, Westminster; &c., &c.

SNAKES: CURIOSITIES AND WONDERS OF SERPENT LIFE.

By CATHERINE C. HOPLEY,

Author of "Aunt Jenny's American Pets," &c.

Profusely Illustrated by A. T. ELWES.

"Miss Hopley's close and conscientious observation of serpent life gives her book a value far beyond that of a mere compilation from what writers of more scientific pretensions have thought and said upon the subject."—Saturday Review.

"Miss Hopley's book will bring many a reader, hitherto neutral because ignorant, to a love for snakes." St. James's Gazette.

"Extremely entertaining. . . . Written in a bright, lively, and intelligent manner; it breathes throughout a warm affection for living objects, of the kind that is rightly contagious; and it exhibits an acquaintance with the habits of snakes in captivity which many professed students may justly envy."—Athenaeum.

"Graphic and instructive. . . . We are glad to call the attention of our readers to a book which is so easy to the reader because the writer has spared herself no pains in preparing it."—Literary World.

"The volume is one which we can thoroughly recommend to readers of all sorts and ages, and an additional word of commendation is merited by its very complete index, a rare but most useful accompaniment."—Standard.

"Thoroughly enjoyable and trustworthy. The illustrations are good and many of them new."—Knowledge.

"The author possesses a thorough knowledge of matters so ably described."—Morning Post.

"To those who get the book we promise a rich treat. Every chapter proves the writer conversant with the latest scientific knowledge regarding the various points treated."—Land and Water.

"Miss Hopley's volume is a very attractive study of what has popularly been regarded as a very unattractive subject. It is by no means a dry and uninviting record of the results of ophiological study and research. . . . The author can write with agreeable fluency and ease."—Nottingham Daily Guardian.

"A real and substantial addition to the world's knowledge of snake life."—Daily Chronicle.

"Lively and interesting, painstaking, exact, and truthful."—Liverpool Albion.
